EDITORIAL COMMENT

Rumors swirl around THE CALIFORNIA TRIO!! Already skeptical of the group's CD prospects (as reported in the February 2000 issue), the NEWS has now learned that a TRIO website is in the offing. What next?

As we say around the newsroom, "the hype is there but substance is rare...". The NEWS has followed THE TRIO for some years and the group has never impressed us as being on the cutting edge of technology (or the cutting edge of most anything). We doubt if they've changed. We don't mean to come on too strong but, if you ask us, the day THE CALIFORNIA TRIO has a website will be a cold day in hell...
